

A FRENCH TOWN

French

Autumn 2021

Class Lynher

We recapped how to ask and answer where we live and then went around asking the question to find the group of who lived in the same French town.

Then we learnt how the verb changes depending on who is answering the question.

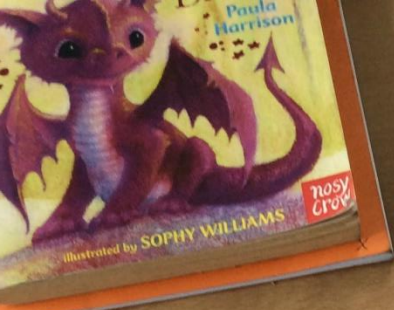

First we matched French places to their English translation, some we knew and some were new.

Listening to the words and seeing them at the same time helped me.

Then we learnt the verbs that match what you would do in the places. We used actions to help us to remember them and put them into sentences.

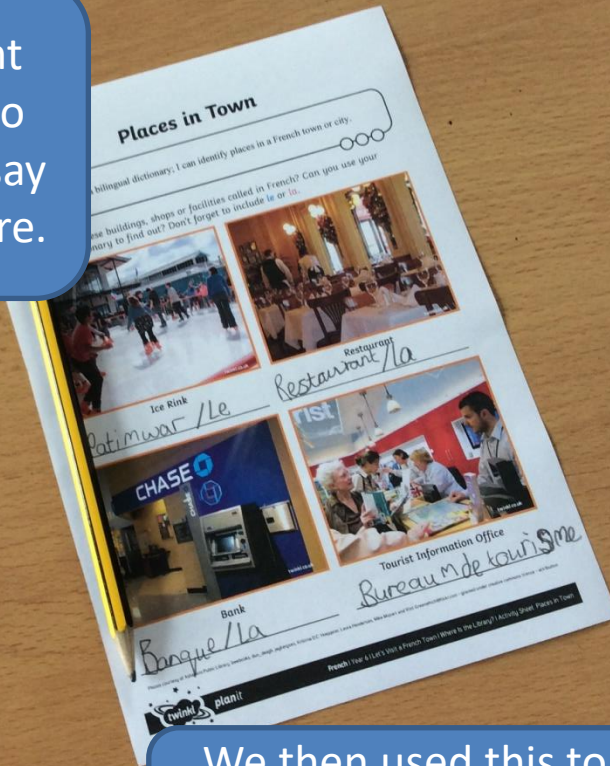

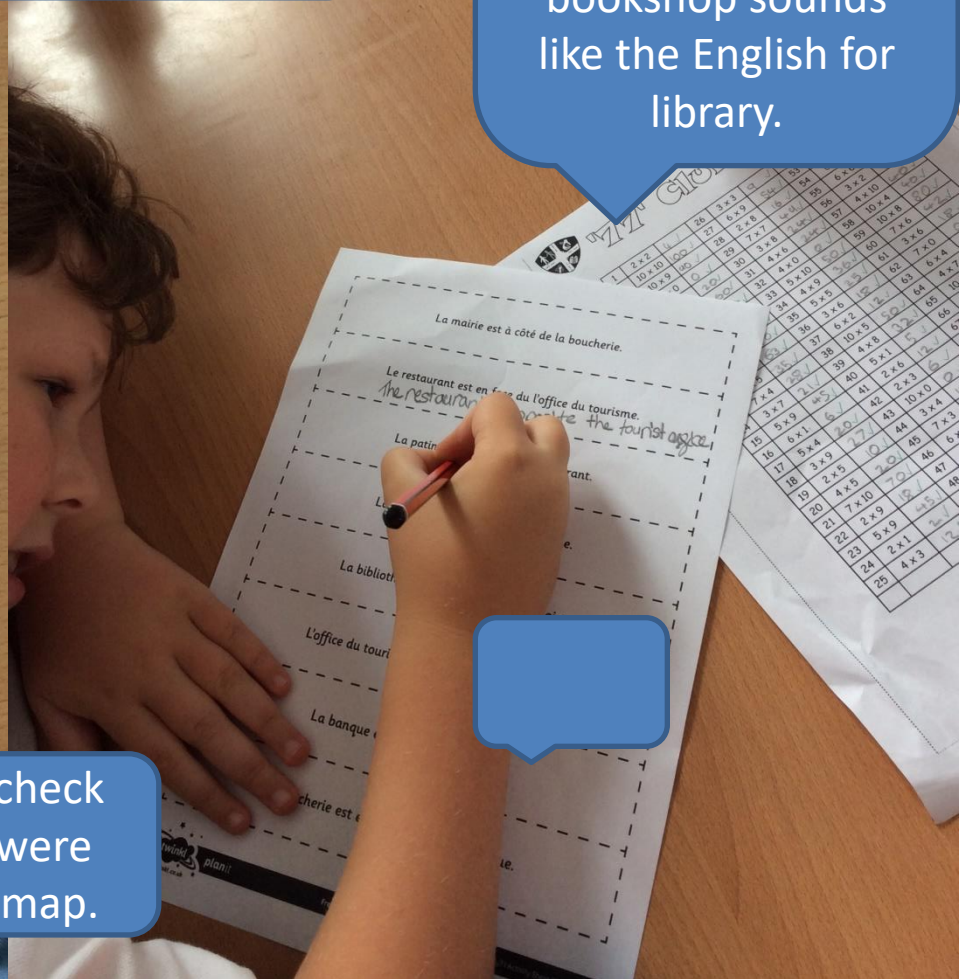

We used an online French dictionary to find new places that we did not know.

You have to be careful not to muddle library and bookshop as bookshop sounds like the English for library.

We then learnt prepositions so that we could say where they were.

We then used this to check whether statements were correct matched to a map.

We recapped and learnt some new objects in the house using the words and pictures to help.

To remember the word for blanket you can think of something covering you.

Then we used our confidence to listen to someone giving a tour of their house in French. We noted the order in which we heard the different words.

We worked out that they were talking about seeing elephants on the television. The sound effect helped too.
