Weaving Magic

We explored a range of woven artwork from around the world then learnt about the textiles artist Gunta Stolzl.

"I like the different shapes she has made."
"I didn't know you could use different materials for weaving."

We created our looms from one sheet of paper – this made the warp.

Then we added thin strips of paper, weaving under and over – this is called the weft.

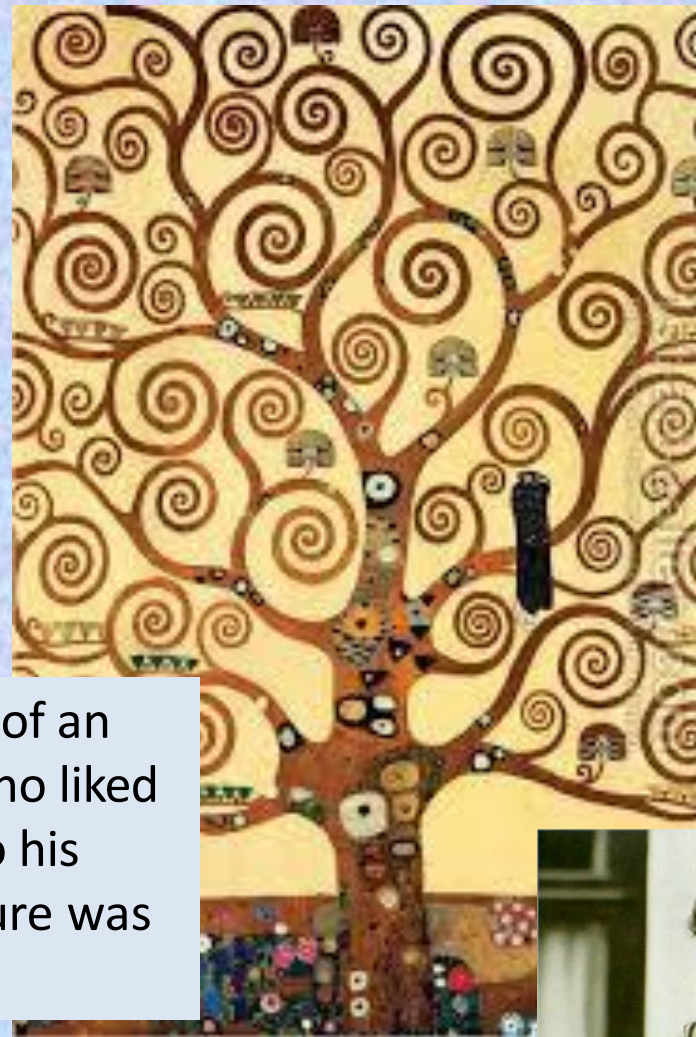

“I chose a blue loom to look like the ocean.”

“I have chosen green and blue strips of paper for the weaving to look like water and seaweed.”

Next we explored the work of an artist called Gustav Klimt who liked to add golden decoration to his artwork. Our favourite picture was 'The Tree of Life'.

"I like the way he has created a patchwork of colours on the dress."

"The tree picture made me feel happy."

"I was inspired by Klimt to add swirls in my design."

"I am going to add lots of colour to my design."

We followed our plans and added the decorations to our placemats. Then, we added just a tiny bit of sparkle like Klimt.

"I was inspired by Gustav Klimt to add things that I really like."

"I am so happy with my super colourful placemat."

Our Endpoint

To design and make a decorated woven placemat and a bag.

Forever Facts

Materials can be joined together using a weaving technique.

People have made yarn and woven cloth for thousands of years.

At first, people made cloth by hand or with simple machines.

A loom is used to keep hold of the materials as you interlace them.

Now, most cloth is made in a factory on automated machines.

Gunta Stolz was a textile artist who was born in Germany.

Gunta Stolz wanted to make weaving popular and encouraged her students to experiment and explore using new materials.

Gustav Klimt was born in Austria and was a talented artist from a young age.

Gustav Klimt liked to use gold leaf in his paintings.

Gold leaf is an extremely thin sheet of gold which can be used to decorate furniture, artwork and many other things.
