

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

What matters most to Humanists and Christians?

Rules link to values and we use our school values as guidance for the way we behave

I think we need rules so that everyone behaves as they should

Rules - do we need them?

What is a Humanist?

It surprised me that some values I thought were important, were also important to Christians' such as forgiveness.

We thought about what matters most to us and compared with what matters most to Christians

What values matter the most to Christians?

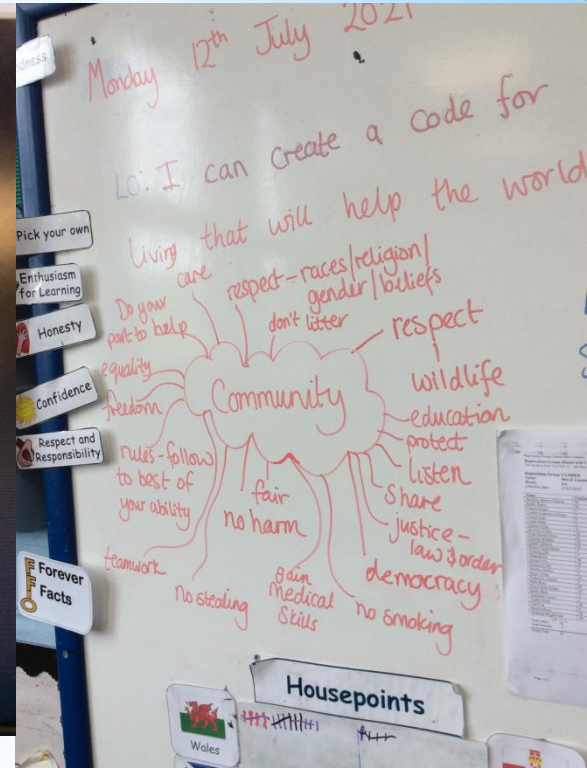

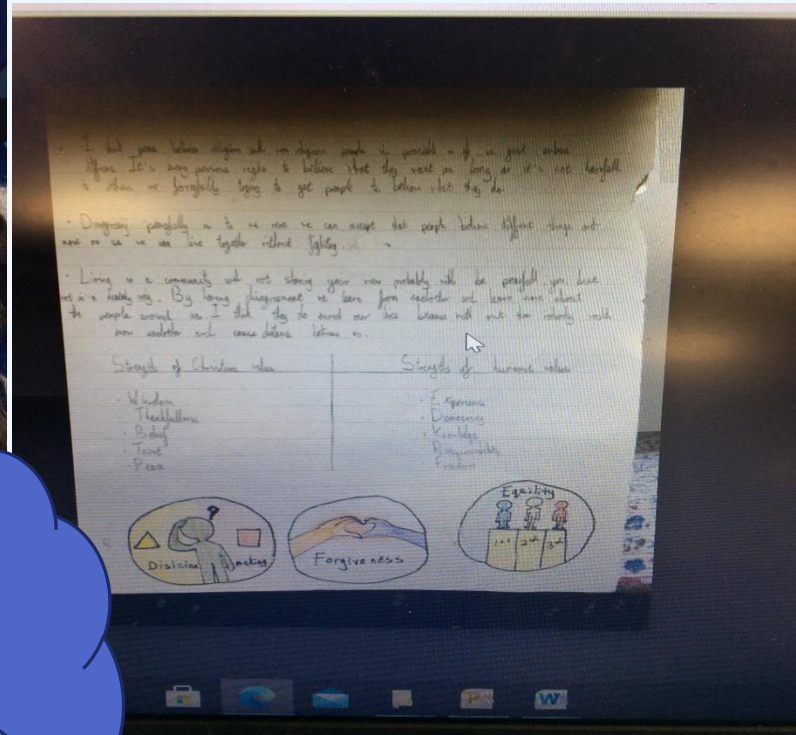

We created our peace poems and songs to show how there could be peace across faiths

I understand there can be peace across faiths

First we need to know what is peace?

It does not matter that we are different, we need to live together and respect those differences

Can we create a code for living that will help the world?

Knowledge within Humanism

Humanists are people who shape their own lives in the here and now, because they believe it's the only life they have. They make sense of the world through logic, reason, and evidence, and always seek to treat those around them with warmth, understanding, and respect.

There are connections between Humanist and Christians ideas about being good and how people live.

It might be helpful yet sometimes difficult to follow a moral code.

Skills

Identify what people are good and bad.

Identify values studied and link to your own views.

To give good reasons for your views

Articulate own responses of issues studied.

Exciting Books

Our Endpoint

What matters to Humanist and Christians?

Subject Specific Vocabulary

Conscience

A person's moral sense of right and wrong, viewed as acting as a guide to one's behaviour.

Morals

Standards of behaviour; principles of right and wrong.

Values

One's judgement of what is important in life.

Virtues

A quality considered morally good or desirable in a person

SMSC: Spiritual – self awareness and reflection on own views.

Curiosity through questioning. Moral – valuing others, establishing appropriate moral codes. Social – opportunities to consider values which are or should be part of society. Cultural – making sense of the world around them.